

Hello,

A "Do not call list" is just that, a "DO NOT CALL list". If I don't want to get ANY marketing calls, that should be absolutely clear to ANYONE trying to sell me something.

It is up to the business I buy from to ask me AT THE TIME OF THE PURCHASE whether I don't mind or don't want to be contacted by them during the next 18 months for marketing purposes.

If the "DO NOT CALL list" isn't really a "DO NOT CALL" list, then you guys in Washington screwed up (again) and should've called the list "DO NOT CALL unless you want to call" list.

How can the government realm be so out of sync with the universe?!?!?!?

Thanks!

Alex Wieder
alexw@tcs-usa.com